Resolution V

In Support of Effective Management of Family Law Cases

WHEREAS, potential changes in the way that courts process family law cases involves substantial policy issues that necessarily call for the involvement of the Conference of Chief Justices (CCJ) in discussing the issues raised in the paper;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Conference of State Court Administrators adopts the white paper on the Effective Management of Family Law Cases and refers the paper to the Courts, Children, and the Family Committee to advance the recommendations contained therein, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that in advancing the recommendations of the white paper the Courts, Children and Family Committee of COSCA should initiate an in depth, empirical study of current family law practices and the development of draft national standards that ensure effective family case management, implements an ethic of care and restoration in handling such cases, and provides needed services to families in crisis, and
